

Silver.

Heretofore, the NORTHERNER has had little to say on the matter of silver coinage, although it has recognized a healthy and growing public sentiment favoring a return to the use of the white metal as a part of the basis of our currency system. But this sentiment has been played upon to the full extent by demagogues and fanatics to draw votes from the republican ticket—and all roads from the republican party lead eventually into the democratic camp. As soon as the spring elections are over, we will have something to say concerning this matter. The republican party will meet and solve the silver question as it has solved every other great question during its history, and the resolution adopted by the republican caucus last Saturday will show to any wavering republican voter the folly of going outside of his own party to secure wise silver legislation.

Meanwhile, until the forces of fanatical agitation and visionary schemes have cleared away, it will be well to remember that no official to be elected on Monday next will have any more to do with the solution of the currency problem than he will with the campaign in China. The election now is a matter of good administration of justice on the supreme bench, of the welfare of our university, of good local government and last but not least of the maintenance of party supremacy so as to present a solid, unbroken front to the enemy in the future.

Democrat silver clubs have been organized all over the state, and in unguarded moments some of the leading democratic papers have urged the formation of such clubs as a refuge for disgruntled republicans. Yet history does not show the democrats to have been the especial friends of silver. They have controlled both houses of the present congress and have not even attempted the enactment of silver legislation. Both parties voted together in the demonetization mistake of '73. It is possible both will vote together for a restoration of silver in '96; we hope such will prove to be the fact. But the Gold Bug Cleveland and Rothschild Syndicate Carlisle controlling national finances, no intelligent voter will be led to vote the democrat ticket this spring by the buncombe silver plank of the Michigan democrats, who, being hopelessly in the minority and seeing the silver sentiment, grabbed at the only possible straw they could see to save them from drowning in the sea of political oblivion; had the wind blown that way they would have grabbed a golden straw just as eagerly.

Republicans, vote your ticket; every man from J. B. Moore to your candidates for constable. Don't let the democrats fool you.

The salaries of our state officers are disgracefully low. Vote "yes" on the salaries amendment.

A Word of Warning.

Republicans of every county in the state should see to it that the largest possible vote is polled for our state ticket, and for the republican candidate for county school commissioner, as well as for the republican nominees for township officers.

Do not be deceived into voting anything but the straight party ticket. Do not be side tracked by free silver or any other side show.

Our great and overwhelming victory last November ought not to make us apathetic, but, on the contrary, should render us all even more earnest in our efforts to hold the ground already won.

Let the watchword be "remonetization of silver and tariff for protection to our industries," then we can pave the way for a glorious victory in the presidential contest next year. Let every republican turn out and get his friends out to the polls and swell the vote of last fall.

T. R. SMITH,
Chairman Republican County Com.

The Whale Abroad.

CHICAGO, March 23, 1895.
MESSRS. E. SMITH & CO.,
Paw Paw, Mich.

Dear Sirs:—We have read the whale story in the TRUE NORTHERNER of March 22, and think it very good. The great whale sale has certainly had a good start this spring, and we predict a season of roaring trade.

H. S. M. clothing, combined with the Long Brick Store's push and enterprise, will accomplish almost anything. People are bound to trade with you when they know what you are doing for your customers.

The beauty of the business is, that they cannot say enough for you after wearing the perfect-fitting H. S. M.'s and comparing the prices they have paid with those asked for inferior goods elsewhere.

A great many merchants talk, but very few back up their promises with such high qualities and powerful price inducements as those offered by the Long Brick Store of E. Smith & Co.

Yours truly,
HART, SCHAEFER & MARX.
